One week to go!

Click here to complete the CPISC certification survey.

Have your say on print industry certification

Certification is one way of recognizing a highly skilled workforce. To help decide if certification is right for the Canadian printing industry, please complete the CPISC certification survey today. The survey period closes this Friday, May 15, at 5pm.

To find out more about certification, download a copy of the CPISC certification discussion paper here. Thank you for your participation.

Read the latest issue of the CPISC newsletter, People in Print, and find out why CPISC is focusing on skills development in this changing economic environment. Read it now.
